

Information Sheet and Checklist PhD Study Visa (Section 16b German Residence Act)

General information

- General processing time for a complete application is about 6-8 weeks; in specific cases e.g. upon request of German authorities it might take longer.
- The visa can only be issued upon approval of the competent aliens authority in Germany.
- Please take note that some authorities in Germany may require documents translated into German and with proof of authenticity (for Canada: legalization).
- No flight reservation is required at the time of your appointment; please book your trip only after having received your passport including visa.
- All holders of a national visa are by law required to register with the local registration office within 2 weeks after moving in. Please refer to the requirements on the website of your local registration office for further information.
- A study visa is a national visa which entitles you to enter other countries in the Schengen zone for a stay of up to 90 days within 180 days.
- Please refrain from inquiries about the state of processing during the regular processing time as the visa section is not able to answer these.
- Further information regarding living and working in Germany is available at www.make-it-in-germany.com.

Foreign PhD-students who have been admitted to a German University for a doctorate or to a doctoral program as a full-time program can apply for a visa for doctoral studies in Germany. It is advisable to take care of the admission or confirmation of the university as early as possible.

You can work part-time during your studies.

You can seek for a job upon completion of the study program.

Please note!

A visa for a research stay must be applied for

- if the doctoral studies are to take place within the framework of an employment contract or a research agreement with a German university or research institution
- if foreign doctoral students are doing their doctorate at a non-German university and wish to stay in Germany for research purposes
